LOCAL ITEMS OF INTEREST.

AFFAIRS CAUGHT BY OUR LOCAL REPORTER AND NOTED.

Written in Condensed Form and Printed in Like Manner for the Sake of Our Weary Readers.

W. W. Grayson, Esq., went to Charleston Tuesday.

Mr. W. E. Cook came over from Scranton Tuesday on business.

Leo is the name of a postoffice recently established in the Prospect section.

Some of the young people enjoyed a dance at the Coleman House Thursday night.

Mr. Roper Pendergrass is able to be out after a four weeks' illness of typhoid fever.

Hoxie G. Askins, Esq., came over Saturday night from Lake City, spending Sunday with friends in town.

The dispensary is pretty full. Something like $2,000 worth of liquor has been added to its stock since October 1.

Among the visitors to town Saturday was our good friend, Mr. J. W. Register, of Trio. Mr. Register is one of our best citizens.

W. L. Bass, Esq., was in town Saturday on professional business. Mr. Bass is a frequent attendant at Squire Matthews' court.

Maj. Theodore Dehon, traveling agent of the News and Courier, was in town Friday looking after the interests of that newspaper.

We return thanks to our honorable council-men for promptly repairing the sidewalk in front of this office in response to our request last week.

Mr. G. P. Nelson has been quite sick at his home for more than a week. His continued illness is the source of much solicitude to his many friends.

Miss Jennie McCutchen, of Kingstree, is spending the day at the home of Capt. J. P. Russell. She leaves to-night for the Columbia Female College.—Florence Daily Times, Oct. 19.

Mr. J. W. Griswold, who has been under medical treatment at Baltimore for several months, passed through town Thursday returning to his home at Smith's Mills.

Messrs. Gagg, Oliver & Co.'s brick store on Academy street is about completed. With its large plate glass windows and handsomely finished interior this building makes quite a brave show in that part of town.

By this sign X in blue pencil after your name you are informed that you are a year or more in arrears for the paper, and that we would thank you for the money owing us.

In the total amount of taxable of the State by counties Williamsburg ranks twenty-sixth with the following:—Railroad, $734,885; real estate, $1,282,748; personal, $713,512; total, $2,731,145.

What Kingstree needs badly among other things is a town hall, or, in fact any kind of hall that would be available for public use. Besides the convenience of it, a hall properly equipped for public meetings and entertainments would be a good-paying piece of property.

Now is the time when you can afford to insure your dwelling or place of business. Call at this office and get a policy in the Equitable Fire Insurance Co., and you will be protected against losing in a single night the property you have acquired by years of hard work.

Mr. Marion Allen, of Florence, has accepted a position in Dr. D. C. Scott's drug store.

Rev. R. W. Barnwell will preach Friday morning and night at the Episcopal chapel.

Mr. Emile Arrowsmith has gone to Georgetown to take charge of M. F. Heller's branch livery and feed stable.

In the local market cotton is quoted at 9 cents for middling, and seed at $18 a ton.

Rev. F. H. Wardlaw and Mr. Hugh McCutchen came up from Indiantown Tuesday on their way to Florence to attend the Presbyterian general synod now in session.

Mr. R. R. Hudgins, of Foreston, visited Mr. W. T. Wilkins last week. Although over 70 years old Mr. Hudgins is as cheerful and vigorous as a young man of half his years.

Mr. Louis Jacobs acknowledges the following additional contributions to the Galveston relief fund: Mrs. S. C. Snider $1.00; Sunbeam Society (through Miss Pearl Koger,) $4.00.

We have it on good authority that work will soon be commenced on a telephone line from Kingstree to Indiantown Church. This will mean, of course, a telephone system in town—a consummation devoutly to be hoped.

Messrs. W. B. Bryan, R. J. Nesmith, W. J. Brockinton, A. R. Moseley, J. O. Carraway and LeRoy Lee, the special committee of the grand jury, met Monday and continued their investigation of the books and records of court house officials, completing their work Tuesday morning. Everything was found to be in good condition and will be so reported at the next term of court.

Clarence D. Rollins, son of R. D. Rollins of Lake City, who has been in the employ of Rutledge and Bass of Washington, D. C., has given up his position and entered the Baltimore Medical College. This is one of the leading medical colleges of the United States. Clarence's many friends in this county are delighted to know that he is enjoying such superior advantages, and wish him abundant success in his chosen profession.

He has on hand a large quantity of Buggies and Wagons, which it will pay you to call at his stables and examine. He will have something to say next week as to styles and prices.

IN THE FLUSH OF MANHOOD.

Miles H. Pipkin is Stricken Down Suddenly at Bloomingvale.

Suddenly stricken down in the flush of young manhood, with the promise of a long and useful career, Miles Hunter Pipkin, at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, fell a victim to that fearful scourge of the low country, hemorrhagic fever. On Friday preceding he was taken sick and in the short space of three days the disease did its deadly work. The funeral services were held at Bloomingvale Baptist church Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Miles Pipkin was the eldest son of the late Daniel J. Pipkin. All of his short life was spent at Bloomingvale, where after the death of his father he was engaged in farming. He was a member of the Baptist church and was a Mason. He was twenty-six years old, and a wife and three children of tender years are left bereaved by his death. An unstinted devotion to duty and an upright manliness of character were the marked attributes of his nature. In boy-hood and man-hood we knew him well, and a more generous, honorable, sincere and big-hearted person would be hard to find. Both in physical and mental endowments his stature was above the ordinary. In his community, in his church, and, above all, in his family his place cannot be filled. In his death the writer feels a deep personal loss of one of his best and truest friends.

With a realization of the futility of words we offer to the sorrowing family our sincerest sympathy, reminding them that in crossing the portals of the mystic beyond the sting of death is forever healed by the divine hand of the Master.

Fall Styles in Men's Clothing.

There are some new departures in both suits and overcoats, on which we shall be glad to post you as fully as desired. The swell merchant tailor effects are faithfully and completely reproduced in the ready-to-wear garments made by L. Adler, Bros. & Co., of Rochester N. Y., and which we alone have on sale. It would do you good to see them, for they well illustrate the folly of paying merchant tailor prices.

Oxford and Cambridge will be as popular this fall as they were last season. Many neat effects are shown in stripes, checks and plaids for suits. The Covert Cloth Overcoat continues to be a strong favorite. We recognize that there is a great variety of tastes, and we make it a point to cater to all. In this we are greatly helped by the large assortment of fabrics and patterns produced by the "Adler" house.

Careful dressers are urged to inspect our showing of high class ready-made, and to see for themselves how it is possible for us to promise them satisfaction at an expense of half what they have been paying for custom made clothing. If you wish a suit or an overcoat made to order I will make same from $16 to $50 each, and guarantee a fit.
